"One's desire to give meaning to a shapeless form TOUCHES the creative instinct in mankind."

To touch is to see

Two men, one old and one young, were engaged in a heated discussion: Which was the more important—sight or touch?

The young man boldly declared that through sight all knowledge and beauty were revealed. Therefore, sight was by far the more important of the senses.

The old man, who had lost his sight years earlier, became impatient with the young philosopher. "Truly young man, you can't appreciate sight because you have never known a world without it."

"I am blind but through my eyes I see. I can distinguish beauty from ugliness, soft from hard, and hot from cold. You touch someone everyday. A smile or a frown, a tear or laughter—they all touch people in a certain place—the heart."

"I say to you young man, you are the one who is blind, for you see only through physical sight. All of the senses are blessings, but without touch, you cannot reach a person's true feelings and emotions. To touch is to see."

A spark ignites the sign.

Sandi Green, the queen's name glows like a torch in the darkness.

Around her gathers her court of ivory-coated princesses escorted by crimson-suited lettermen.

For precious hours, their names are on the lips of the crowd; their titles are envied; their dreams and wishes fulfilled.

Hours later, the magic of the night is filed away in the book of past events.

The cycle of Homecoming 1973 is complete. Its spirit has touched the crowd once again.

Smoky sunrays in hazy eyes—
Where the light cracks through the night.
It's 8:20!
The parking lot packed with cars—
The darker image of a great creature—
Scrambled, trapped, twisted,
squeezed,
Penned by yellow lines.
The broken body squeaks and growls.
Sleepy faces, slurred voices of last night's sleep.

A new day!
Hello!
A choice? A friend?
A crisis—to stop and cut him off—
Or a chance and a thought to know him better—
A friendship made or broken.
Talk now!
Between periods, at lunch, in class,
In the library, in a cubby-hole,
During a study hall, in the halls,
By the candy machines—
Talk now. Every minute is precious—
Stop! Silence. A locker slams!
It's finished!
Three years!
Forever.

See the morning sun scratching the sky.
It's a red-hot steel ball, fresh from the kiln.
Each day it tries to boil the lake in a cloud of steam.

Fly high, pelican, no wings of wax.
Like Icarus, daunt the sun.
In your years the sun has singed your wing-tops brown.

Fly high, pelican, from wastelands of sleep
To the mountains of the moon, out of dreamland.
Across the gray-skyed, dust-blown roads,
Glance your image off the glimmering lake.
Cool your feathers in the air.
Tell pelican friends what you have seen.
What color is Lake Manawa today?

Tell them all about Nature.
On the bank with someone, we will watch
You drift west into the sunset.
The sun at dusk is warm and great—
Gathering in its light.

Gridders aim for wins

With the return of a strong backfield and a scrappy defense, it looked like it would be a fruitful year for Coach Don Hinkle, but the grapes turned sour as his gridders ran into a tough National Division and came out of the demanding competition with a 3-5-1 record.

Aerial ace and All-City quarterback Paul Crane showed composure as he steadily guided the offense all season long, and more often than not one would find John Wickman making some spectacular catches from Crane's tosses. When the air game wasn't moving, the speed and moves of All-City halfbacks John Barber and Tom Carrithers kept the defense honest. In addition, good showings were also made by Jim Conley, Jay Svoboda, Terry Cooper, and Mark Lorenzen, as they were aided by their decisive and determined teammates.

All-City linebacker Jerry Rounds led the defense, even though he sat out the last two games with a knee injury. Chasing Rounds on the tackle charts was gutty halfback Jim Wright, along with halfbacks Carrithers, Wickman, and Jim Chapman. Defensive line play was highlighted by Jay Svoboda, Mike Shrader, Rod Jensen, Mark Lorenzen, and Jim Petersen.

A 3-4-1 season doesn't sound very impressive, but the scoreboard doesn't tell the whole story of the sophomore gridders. They proved they could play offense by beating Boys Town 52-0, and they proved they could play defense by beating Benson 5-2.

Defensive play was highlighted by Mike Leaders, Jon Sundermann, Kent Stopak, and Mike Jensen.

Offensive standouts were Shawn Peters, John Sundermann, Matt Hale, Mike Leaders, and Terry Nation.

Harriers outstride competition

Varsity cross country runners completed a fine season this year with a five win, five loss record that enabled them to finish in sixth place in the tough Metro Conference. Junior Bob Thomsen led the harriers with a second place ranking in the Metro Invitational Meet. An experienced team of Ed Clatterbuck, Kenney Nelson, Dave Johnson, Dave Thomsen, and Bob Thomsen also won first place at the one-mile Council Bluffs Mile Team Race.

Rebuilding proves to be a chore

Rebuilding was the major task Coach Reed Emsick undertook in an effort to fill vacancies left by graduation. Coach Emsick had to rely heavily on junior grapplers Mike Renteria, Mark Shearer, John Hough, Mark Fjare, Matt Atherton, and Bob Anderson, as Rod Jensen, Mike Peary and Tom Mahoney were the only seniors to add backbone to the squad.

Three outstanding grapplers were produced throughout the course of the season. Senior Rod Jensen compiled a 19-7 record, junior Mike Renteria 20-8 and sophomore Mike Shrader 10-10. Rod Jensen, Mike Renteria, Mike Shrader, Mark Shearer, and Tom Mahoney advanced into District tournaments only to be eliminated in the finals.

Sophomore talent boost J.V.'s

Compiling a 1-3 record Coach Dennis Dozark and his sophomore wrestlers fell victims to a few points in the final seconds of the match. In the early season, the fiesty grapplers downed Benson only to fall short of Bellevue and Burke by 3 points. Westside was the only victor by a dominating margin giving the experience needed for next year.

Two outstanding sophomore wrestlers who ended the season with outstanding 4-0 records were Dan Peary and Joel Volentine, 138 pounds and 105 pounds respectively. The two most improved wrestlers were Mike Hasbrouck at 126 pounds and Jeff Berding at heavy weight.

Nineteen gymnasts captured a 9-3 record. The team swung its way to sixth place in the State Meet, fourth in the Metro Tourney, and third in Metro League Meets. A.L. placed in the state meets as follows: sidehorse—seventh, parallel bars and rings—eighth. On the sidehorse, Bob Pusey placed first; Mark Royer took fourth in the State Meet; and Tracy Kimnach placed eighth in the high-bar event.

Abe Lynx mermen swam to the most successful season recorded ending their hard-fought dual season with a 12-4 record. Mr. Joe Hauser, in his first year of coaching duties with the able swimmers, coached the Lynx to a sixth place finish in the Metro Conference. Through many strenuous hours of sheer determination and effort, the tankers took fifth place out of eleven teams in the district qualifications. The Lynx qualified two relay teams and three individuals in the state meet. The 200-yard medley relay teams consisting of Clark Giles, Shawn Peters, Tom Brandon, and Dan Kealy set a new school record with a time of 1.51.7. Leading team members were Clark Giles—backstroke, Tom Kealy—freestyle, and Tom Brandon who finished eleventh in the state in the 100-yard butterfly.

Lynx cagers advance to sub-state

Experience was the key for the Abe Lynx cagers as the starting five returned from last year's squad with varsity letters and valuable playing time. With the back court work of Paul Crane and Robb Eyre, forwards Chris Jensen and Tom Carrithers, All-City pivot man Scott Franz and the always vocal bench bunch, the Lynx took the City Championship with impressive defeats over Thomas Jefferson and St. Alberts. An overall record of 11-9 was compiled by Coach Gene Armstrong's court crew as the Lynx came as close as one game from gaining a berth in the State Tournament, losing to Harlan in the final seconds of the game.

J.V. cage Metro second place

Coach Phil Nielsen and his Junior Lynx cagers took second place in the Metro National Division with a well balanced scoring attack. Jon Ryan led with scoring honors of 10 points a game, while Scott Miller topped the charts in rebounds. Scott Bomgaars, Mike Allmon, Rick Hardman and Bill Cenovich contributed their scoring talents to wind up the season with a 9-7 record.

The team captured a very impressive victory over Creighton Prep 67-60, one of the top teams in Nebraska. Prep had previously been undefeated for two years.

Experience highlights baseball

With nine returning lettermen, the Abe Lynx varsity baseball team had the experience to achieve a winning season, ending their spring schedule with an 8-5 record. Tough pitching, tight defense, and terrific hitting highlighted the Lynx nine to impressive victories. Hitting honors went to seniors Randy Hamilton and Paul Crane, and juniors Dave Kruse and Jim Neely. Joe Bahr and Dan McSorley led the pitching staff with their hurling talents as John Barber handled the hustling job of catching. In his debut, Coach Freeman led the J.V. team to a 4-5 season and an impressive 10-3 defeat over T.J. Stingy defense key the Junior Lynx as they committed few errors against their opponents. Craig Buckmaster, Rick Bain, Russ Webster, John Bahr, and Daniel Meyer provided fielding and hitting strength while Lowell Kennedy, Darrell Livengood, and Steve Vargas displayed their talents from the pitching mound. Vargas led the club with a 2-1 mound record on the season and Russ Webster took the batting title for the team, boasting a .400 batting average with twelve runs batted in. Wickman captures Drake long jump

The 1974 Lynx track season was highlighted by John Wickman's victory in the Drake Relays Long Jump. John leaped 22'8¼" to be the first A.L. athlete to win a first place at Drake. This jump along with his 43'3¼" triple jump at the C.B. Relays established new school records in these events. Wickman placed fourth in the state meet with a jump of 21'8". Butch Atherton placed third at state and set a new school record with a throw of 161'2" in the discus. First place finishes at the Lewis Central relays and capturing the city meet for the fourth year contributed greatly to a successful season. Outstanding performances were turned by seniors Butch Atherton in the discus, sprinters Kenny Nelson, Harold Petersen, and Ed Clatterbuck. Junior standouts were sprinters Mike Stoddard, Jim Petersen, Todd Shanno, and Dave Thomsen and Bob Thomsen as distance runners. Promising sophomores were Mike Shrader, Mark Purdy, Neal Spence, Kevin Bryson, and Kenny Weber.

Students get it on in intramurals

Students are finding more and more enjoyment from playing a good, lively game of basketball, volleyball and softball with a few friends. Intramurals included boys basketball and softball, and girls volleyball and basketball. The girls started the season with the Hot-dogs as the champs. Boys basketball was next with Edgewood ahead of the pack for two consecutive years. Girls basketball found the Cream Puffs as the number one team. Other teams such as the Booloos, Ragettes, Kabongers and several more worked hard. There was a new spirit in the air. Everyone had a good time and really got into the game.

Sporting the latest fashion in eye-goggle wear, the girls swim team was off to a record breaking 4-1-1 season. A change for the girls—Metro distances were lengthened to Iowa's regulations. Individual events were 100 yards long rather than 50 yards. This ruling gave the Lady Lynx an extra edge at the District Meet because they could pace themselves for the longer distances. Mary Brandon, Linda Filbert, Kathy Hamer, and Sue Hilburn of the freestyle relay team earned a trip to the State Meet by qualifying fourth at the District Meet in Des Moines.

Bowlers strike again

In the past three years the girls bowling team has not gone down the gutter but instead has advanced straight up the alley.

Team number one includes Pam Coulter, Kim Mahan, Tracy McPartland and Mary Miller. Team number two consists of Betty Evans, Carol Garafalo, Cyndi Hammers, and Pam Thomas. Team number three includes Sherri Auch, Marcia Beck, Amy Johnson, and Patty Myers.

Although the number of members has increased, the sophomores dominate the twenty member team with the juniors coming in with a close second.

Sophomores add height for offensive success

Coach Bill Beasley and his Lady Lynx ended their second year of competition with a misleading 3-9 record. Lacking the necessary fundamentals in their first season of girls basketball, Coaches Beasley and Lyle combined their ideas and came up with summer practices.

Sophomores were a great boost to the team with Sheri Anderson in both courts, Debbie Buley, and Michelle Kirlin making Varsity as forwards, along with Marsha Hartfield and Janis Goodman in the guard court. Juniors Liz Maxwell, Dianne Miller, Sherry Cooper, and Robin Fahl were the strength of the defense throughout the year adding hustle and go. Junior forwards Lori Gallaro and Lisa Freese kept the sophomores on their toes, both striving to be a Varsity starter. To round out the team, Lady Lynx seniors Laurie Amend and June Carman kept the girls going all year long with spirit and leadership. June commanded as captain in the back court and Laurie instructed as captain in the forward court.

Lady Lynx were plagued with many injuries in addition to shin splints, jammed fingers, and blistered feet throughout the season with managers Emily Smith, Kari Trongaard, Laurie Jones doing a great job coping with these problems.

Basics are a must for J.V.

Sophomores were a big boost to the Junior Varsity. With two varsity guards adding the needed strength on defense, the Lady Lynx came within points of defeating their opponents. The forward court was well rounded, talented, and sparked by transfer Mary Sorensen.

Victory tasted ever so sweet to the Junior Lady Lynx when they defeated Underwood, the first victory of the season and the last game of the year.

Girl gymnasts are new in Metro

Girl gymnasts excelled in "eating" at the five meets attended by an 11-member team. Rather than ranking at the bottom in the Metro Meet, A.L. ranked 10th —next to the bottom.

There were four events: uneven parallel bars, balance beam, horse, and floor exercise. Top participants in each event were as follows: uneven parallel bars—Carol Stone, balance beam—Jalle Ozaydin, horse—Linda Filbert, floor Exercise—Julie Wickman.

This was the first year the team participated in Metro Meets, so the "going and the scoring" were rough. Mrs. Sue Hauser sponsored this team through its period of development. Since Carol Stone was the only senior on the team, a good nucleus will begin the season in 1974.

Ups and downs of tennis playing hit the girls tennis team. The balance and precision of the players seemed to falter at the decisive points in their matches, which resulted in a loss of many close sets.
Mary Larsen and Lisa Freese traded the position of first singles many times during the season with both being very potent at different times. Terri Hammer and Valerie Smith showed their years of experience by being placed in the first doubles spot. Many sophomores rounded out the rest of the team and will be back next year with more experience.

440 relay team goes to state

The Girl's Track team was highlighted by a state qualified 440 relay team. The relay team consisted of Sue Hilburn, Cindy Nelson, Sandy Nelson, and Julie Wickman. These girls also had a power-packed 440 shuttle relay squad which would have faired well at state but was disqualified during the District meet by a misjudged baton change.

A broader interest in track has been raising the number of team members over the past 2 years. A new coach, Mr. Graves added some enthusiasm to join the squad.

ACTIVITIES

Spirit is the key in "73"

Homecoming week started at a slow rate but gained speed as it came time to break the sound barrier at the "Froggy Beaver" dance.

One of the main activities of the week was the car bash when all the muscular men and women could relieve all their tensions on an old beat-up junker. A dime a hit or three for a quarter were the minimum prices.

When the car bash was over, all the Pom Pon girls trucked off to decorate the field for the game, while the cheerleaders stayed close to school and decorated the locker room for the football players.

a. Bambi Rettig shows her spirit by decorating for Homecoming.
b. Froggy Beaver gave an exciting conclusion to Homecoming Week.
c. The 50's Day was brought to A.L. to help make Homecoming week a bigger success.

The game was on and everyone eagerly waited to see whom the 1972 Queen Cindy McCall Fox was going to crown. All eyes were focused at the back of the field, waiting for the first letter of the new queen's name. Miss Sandi Green's eyes filled with tears as she discovered she was 1973 Homecoming Queen.

The Pep Club sponsored a wild "50's Dance" that started at 8:30 and ended at 3:05. Any active greaser could get out of study hall to participate. Ponytails and saddle oxfords were the common fashions in school that day. A few of the more outspoken men in school tried out their fashions as they covered their hair with grease and strutted down the hall.

Cheerleaders unite as one squad

Third Row: Angela Bean, Shawni Stichler, Julie Storm, Jill Strohbehn, Valerie Smith, Jean Batten, Dianna McGee, Liz Maxwell.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Sis! Boom! Bah! Ever wonder how the peppy, smiling, and spirited cheerleaders were recruited? Cheerleaders were selected from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes to make up the varsity squad. The final squad consisted of nine sophomores, six juniors, and eight seniors.

Spirit-stuffed lovely ladies went to the annual cheerleading camp at Lake Okoboji, Iowa. There they were awarded the Spirit Stick and won other various awards for enthusiasm, personality, and charm.

Besides cheering and winning awards, these industrious young ladies held a bake sale to raise funds to help pay for their uniforms. Mrs. Carol Tiller, new sponsor, directed these activities.

"Pretty and Perky" was the motto of the Pom Pon squad which consisted of four sophomores, seven juniors, five seniors and one peppy, petite sponsor, Mrs. Linda Christensen. Each member added her own sparkle to all home football and basketball games by doing "her own thing." Patriotic outfits of red, white and blue put a little "pazzazz" in each jazzy dance.

During the summer, fifteen members attended camp in Lincoln, Nebraska. For their hard efforts, they won two third-place ribbons and in final competition, they placed second. Many unique dances were taught which helped the girls progress through the football and basketball seasons.

At 7 o'clock each morning of the fall, the Pom Pon girls practiced, trudging through the mud with the band during the football season. No early practices were missed except for illness or for a parental excuse. A demerit system was enforced by Mrs. Christensen, and a new constitution with a modern view-point was approved.

Pep rallies activate new spirit

A united group of pep seekers wearing flashy red, white, and blue Pep Club shirts stirred spirit in the Abraham Lincoln gym. The group led the student body in songs of spirit and victory at various pep assemblies and games. Pep rallies also burst with spirit. The cheerleaders, Pom Pon girls, Pep Club, and athletes blew bubble gum, pulled ropes, and promoted other spirit producing activities. After all the fun and games were over, the school song was sung with a majority of the students using their pep to make it the best. All these activities produced a sense of victory throughout the gym in anticipation of the evening's activities.

The party? Who's having a party? An informal atmosphere sparked the idea of "a party" as members of the Road Show cast, sipping 7-Up cocktails, mingled with the audience. Live band music complemented the party with great "stomping" tunes. Swing Choir, Dance Band and a newly formed Dance Troupe were applauded as favorites. Other lead numbers included "Choir Madness," "Gib's Girls," "Pencils" and "There's Got to be a Night before the Morning After."

With five weeks of intense practice, the students made the musical, Kiss Me Kate, explode across the stage. More than 100 people participated in the production, including the stagecrew, the orchestra, and cast members. Without the help of Mr. Lee Spann, Mr. John Gibson, and Mr. Jim Misner the musical would not have been possible.

Imaginary Invalid hypnotizes

Directed by Mr. John Gibson and Connie Larson, "The Imaginary Invalid" entranced audiences during the evening performances of April 25 and 27. The story of an aging hypochondriac and his unhappily engaged daughter form the background for the play. Cast members include John Jackson in the title role, Lynne Boyd, Harriet Luckman, Kathy Graff, Dale Grote, Roger Adams, David Cook, Doug Grote, Steve Hales, Mike Larmon, Becky Lane, Kathy Goeser, and Gary Gook. The portrayal of this three-hundred-year-old play was aided by the Mime Company, musicians, and puppeteers, as well as the French classes.

a. The character of Argan, the Imaginary Invalid, is portrayed by John Jackson who counts out his doctor bills and wonders about the outcome of his troubles with his maid, brother, wife, and two daughters.

Christmas dance is a big "smash"!!!

The third annual A.F.S. sponsored Christmas Dance was a big success. Grant Street, a five member group, provided lively music to jive to.

Snowflakes and angels were added to the walls of the gymnasium to bring out the theme of "Winter Fantasia," while people filled the floor, to bring out the Christmas spirit. The stagecraft class constructed and suspended the shining decorations.

One week before the dance, invitations were sent to every girl in the school. The dance, which was for couples only, was a record breaker in ticket sales. The club made approximately a two hundred and sixty dollar profit.

The swingin New Design grooves

The New Design has been entertaining audiences in and around Council Bluffs for four years. They average about 50 performances per year. Some of their most exciting adventures included a two day trip to a Conception Monastery, in Missouri, and a visit to Northwest Mission State Campus and performances at other S.W. Iowa schools. They also traveled to an Apollo Swing Choir festival in March where they placed third out of fourteen Class A schools at Westmar College.

A three hour rehearsal every Tuesday night is used to learn the choreography. The group also meets every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 7:30 to learn the music notes and rhythm.

Neither rain nor snow nor gloom of morning kept our faithful A.L. Marching Band from practice. These practices prepared the Band to march in perfect formation at the home football games and to march at the Columbus Day Parade without even a jerk of the head as the rain dripped off each of the marchers' noses. They even worked hard enough to march at the Drake University football game with several other high schools.

Orchestra and Band were "noted" during the year for their abundance of talented musicians. Scott Gerard and Mike Moore earned the title of First Class Musicians in a new program in which students can work their way up through various levels of proficiency. Lynne Boyd, Cynthia Faisst, Scott Gerard, Craig Newberg, Kim Paul, and Mary Beth Scarpellino were chosen for the All State Orchestra, while Janet Beno and Bonnie Nielsen qualified for the All State Band.

a. The orchestra concentrates on producing perfectly blended music at the Scholarship Concert.

New sponsor spurs "yearbookers"

Crimson and Blue for 1973-74 blended new ideas with experience as the staff consisted of thirteen seniors, fifteen juniors, and a new sponsor. Editor of the annual was Anne Gross with co-editors Kathy Ryerson and Rick Bryant. Not only were there many new faces on the staff but Miss Carol Murray took the job of yearbook sponsor as Miss Erva Huckleeberry resigned the previous year. Miss Huck's experience was helpful as she assisted "yearbookers" to meet their layout deadlines.

"Yearbookers" started the year with the annual campaign for selling yearbooks on October 26, 27, 28 for only $6. Seven photographers did most of the picture-taking which differed from previous years when Mr. W. W. Clarke and one or two students took pictures. Yearbook students followed every school activity to be on the know for this book.

Echoes has new format

"Congratulations on the new look of The Echoes," wrote the editor of the Tombstone Epitaph. This and many other complimentary letters were sent to The Echoes this year.

The editors, Jill Thomas and Mike Winchester, introduced a new size paper and regular features to express opinions. The staff's four reporters were kept busy marching their assigned areas.

Mike Winchester was the first junior to be an editor of the paper. Jill Thomas, previous staffer, helped the reporters with writing technique and journalistic form.

Spanish Club

Thirty members, on an average, attended Spanish Club social events. (Business meetings were something else.) Initiation was held at Long's Landing in the form of a picnic. There was a big turn-out at Big Fred's Pizza in Omaha in November. Members worked hard creating a pinata which was battered to pieces in the auditorium while junior high and senior high Spanish students observed this Christmas tradition. In fact, the French and German Clubs were present for the Christmas program. At this moment of reporting, members were anticipating a Mexican night at the Hilton in February with Mexican food and a Mexican band. Dinner at the Bohemian Cafe followed by an evening at Skateland was planned for April. The traditional farewell picnic closed the social events in May.

Language clubs add social life to school

German Club

German Club initiation made an indelible impression on new members. Imagine bobbing for a slick onions in a tub of water or fishing for peeled bananas in a "commode." Remember—the initiates were blindfolded while being treated with "TLC." Halloween costumes added gaiety to the party.

A night of German games was the social event for November while a Christmas party with exchange of gifts, German songs and Christmas cookies highlighted December. Bake sales, a garage sale and a car wash helped furnish funds for a trip to the Amana Colonies in the spring.

French Club

If one could understand French, he knew when to laugh with the puppets at the French Christmas tea held in the French classroom. However, actions spoke louder than words so nobody missed the fun! Faculty members, who were special guests during this all-day event, saved lunch money while they enjoyed the "goodies" made by both male and female members.

Sibel Taboglu—Istanbul, Turkey

"First of all I want to thank you all for the warmest welcome and friendship you offered me. What I learned above most all, through my experiences, is to love people not just because they are nice to me, but because they are people created to live together and share together. My hobbies are painting, singing, swimming, tour guiding, and traveling. I very much hope to come back to the U.S. for further studying after I graduate from college in Istanbul."

Susanne Fogarasi—Munich, West Germany

"The whole year has been one exciting experience! The most exciting things belong to the first time I saw my family, and the first time I entered A.L. Also, I am looking forward to graduation, in Germany we only have final examinations for several days and then a short ceremony. My hobbies include swimming, playing the piano, and most of all I love to argue. I really love the U.S. and its people! You can be sure that I'll come back one day!"

a. Sibel Taboglu says, "Don't be afraid to step and find out about your brothers and sisters all over the world that think, feel, dream, and achieve the same as you do."

b. "With leaving Europe and entering the United States started the most exciting year of my life," says Susanne Fogarasi.

Clubs are work as well as fun

During Christmas vacation the Youth Red Cross, sponsored by Mrs. Gloria Sinnett and Mrs. Dorothy Ricke, with the help of the school nurse, Mrs. Helen Jones, selected one needy family to aid. Members collected clean used clothing, canned foods, and toys for the family. Another service of the Youth Red Cross was to visit senior citizens.

Student Council, as in the past, was split on many ideas. One of these was the underground newspaper, which was finally published. Mr. Joe Hauser and Mr. William Willard, sponsors, guided many lengthy discussions about the prom.

Thirty junior and senior girls expertly greeted the public as a part of their duty as Courtesy Club members. They served at all social functions, and were treated to a dinner at the 64 Club, compliments of Mr. Kenneth Kuester. Mrs. Lois Alter and Mrs. Mary Gepner sponsored this group.

Clubs are filled with projects

Field trips, speakers, and learning office etiquette all added up for fun for the members of Future Secretaries of America. The main project of the club was typing twenty-five thousand envelopes for the Crippled Children's Society.

Future Homemakers of America held their annual fashion show and senior banquet; they also went to the junior highs to promote F.H.A. For fun they had a Christmas party and progressive dinners.

Y-Teens visited nursing homes and the pediatrics section of Jenny Edmundson. Each member volunteered for various services. Y-Teens held their first carnival and cleared over one-hundred dollars.

A scavenger hunt and a trip to Halverson Center started the new year for Future Teachers of America. Thirteen girls participated in a teaching program at Peterson School for two periods a day.

Shadows move; shadows conspire in the background.

They are silhouettes—usually lacking shape—shapelessness is what it's all ABOUT.

Are shadows real? Do they exist as man sees existence?
Silhouettes have shape—but lack feeling—just as a shadow does,
They are both one in the same—both longing to retire from backstage—not to forever loom as a lost soul.

But then, a lost soul was incomplete
Exactly as shadows and silhouettes
yearn to close their void,
A catch exists to filling the emptiness of shadows and silhouettes.
Some will never learn how to close up the distance between the shadows, for What more do they represent—but "hope".

Administration gets a new member

Mr. Earl Graff joined the Abraham Lincoln High School faculty as the new athletic director and worked with Mr. Kenneth Kuester, principal, and Mr. Donald Moxley, assistant principal, to organize the school day and all extracurricular activities.

During the entire year, Mr. Kuester was a very busy man as he investigated various school programs from Omaha, Nebraska, to Kansas City and St. Louis, Missouri. He brought back many ideas for the future. In order to bring about these ideas, Mr. Kuester presented the information to the teachers in a number of workshops. As a result, students enjoyed several mini vacations.

Mr. Moxley was as busy as ever with no new surprises coming from his department except that he toured the halls saying, "Let's see your pass!"

Teachers earn their vacation

Did you ever wonder what teachers do during the lazy hazy days of summer? They teach summer school, attend college, travel throughout the United States and Europe, work at home, fish, play golf and tennis, hike, swim, attend symphonies, look for antiques, refinish furniture, plan for the coming year. And if there is time, they relax. This greatly contrasts the school year when everyone is busy teaching, preparing for classes, supervising, testing, grading, keeping records, having conferences, advising, and learning from the students.

Mr. Vonnie Tangeman spent the year of '72 building his own house. His family moved into the house in June of '73. His wife spent many hours painting and varnishing while friends and relatives helped in other areas. The house is not complete yet but every homeowner has projects. After 13 years, Mr. Seth Hills made a return visit to Europe. He reported much construction was going on in large cities such as Rome, London, and Paris. Rome and Paris were not like he imagined. He would like to return to London in the summer of '74.

During the summer of 1973, Mrs. Lois Alter represented the Council Bluffs Education Association at the national convention in Portland, Oregon. There were approximately 12,000 teachers present and Iowa's candidate for president, a man from Des Moines, was elected the national president.

Mrs. Alter took advantage of being on the coast and flew to Hawaii on a 747 jet. Peaks of Mt. Hood and Mt. Ranier were visible above the clouds to the 297 teachers on the plane. Eight days were spent in Hawaii where the highlights were hula dancers, surfers, outrigger canoes, the Punchbowl Cemetery but most memorable of all—Pearl Harbor and the Arizona Memorial. Experiences included swimming in the ocean, church services in the oldest Christian Church on the island, walking on Waikiki Beach at night and a Singapore Sling!?!?

Men's lib creates new atmosphere in office

Talk about "Women's Lib," "Men's Lib" began in the office when Tom Carrithers and Dan Hayes became office assistants. With a little twist and turn, Tom and Jan Semple arranged to have the same office hour. Next, hundreds of white room passes were stolen over a September weekend. Then a quota of passionate pink passes were printed, but they ran out the first of December. Second semester passes were turquoise which cooked the culprits of the white passes.

With truckload after truckload of intellectuals entering Abraham Lincoln High School each year, the guidance counselors never allowed a single shipment to spoil. Therefore, they contacted each student three or four times instead of twice. All in all, the counselors kept the wheels rolling. To aid the students, several counselors undertook the new procedure of discussing college and work related topics in the science lecture hall.

Cooks and custodians— "mechanical retrievers"

COOKS

"Double or nothing" was the motto of the cooks. There were double lines for jet lunches and for hot lunches. It took five minutes or less to get one's food thus leaving plenty of time to eat it.

Paper sacks were scarce and expensive, so Burger Town took advantage of these points and furnished boxes at a reduced rate. While packing boxed lunches, the cooks dreamed of more work area, more storage room, and a walk-in cooler and freezer. (A.L. students dreamed of a milk-shake machine like T.J. had but there was a shortage of electricity.)

Catering service was provided for two schools instead of four. Guess what? Ice cream was legal and the cooks made between 1,000 and 1,500 cookies a day for the Abraham Lincoln students.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

Mr. Harlin Hurd, Mr. John Ramsey, Mr. Carl Frascht, Mrs. Della Esslinger, and Miss Pat Ryan joined the custodial staff bringing the total to fourteen employees.

Mr. Fred Christensen, head custodian, reported that eleven windows were broken the first two months of the school year. A new type of glass called plexiglass was used for replacement. School Board challenged by bond issue

a

Dr. Leonard Gregory, superintendent of schools, and the Council Bluffs School Board were challenged by a new, yet old, situation—the condition of Harrison, Madison, Avenue B, and Dodge Schools. During the fall, a bond issue of over seven million dollars for the construction of new schools was presented to the voters, and was defeated. Opponents to the bond issue cited that busing pupils from the closed schools and the size of the bond issue were major obstacles to obtaining approval. During the struggle between the voters and the School Board, the Iowa Fire Marshal investigated the debatable buildings: net result—buildings are still in use. The fate of the buildings will be determined when the bond issue is presented to the voters again.

Students experience key-punch and recycling

Remember those days when everything was either fire, earth or water? Times have changed, since now the quadratic formula can be solved in minutes and everyone knows that H_2O is water.

To further advance the students' knowledge, teachers such as chemistry teachers Mrs. Christine Fink and Mr. Dennis Schmoker, and math teachers Mr. Orville Miller and Miss Erva Huckleeberry used individualized methods in their classes. This program was successful. Mr. Ron Beeson secured a key-punch machine for computer-minded students. Since a pilot course was successful last year, a semester course on computer programming was added to the curriculum.

Advanced chemistry classes were really with it. They dealt with environmental problems to the extent that they performed experiments on recycling aluminum cans. (Watch it! The new pennies may be made from recycled A.L. cans.)

Teachers finally got a little help from their friends. The six students in the new Production class typed out tests and other papers needed by teachers. These were some of the noises one could hear when observing the advanced students of drafting and wood shop work to complete a giant project. Members of this class began in the fall to build a house located at 18th Street and Avenue G.

Things hummed in the Shop Department with the addition of Mr. Craig Tindall to assist Mr. Ron Holland in Metal Shop. Mr. Richard Buchanan was appointed as head of Building Construction at the Career Center.

Sewing machines were also busy while advanced sewing classes stitched their way through many plays. Boys finally achieved their own status in the Home Economics Department in a class called Bachelor Foods. Here boys learned to appreciate the meals their mothers prepared for them.

Study of man helps understanding of others

To work with the current problems of today, the students were challenged with the problems of the past. A changing of the times put students on a one-to-one confrontation with the mentally disturbed.

Making classes come alive was no problem when a speaker was presented to the Social Studies and Social Science classes.

A look into the unknown, a visit into the mind of an emotionally disturbed person, a study on compatibility between people, observations on behavior in animals and humans—these were activities from which all learned.

Drivers Ed promotes safety

She had just learned how to drive with a standard transmission in the simulator. The film started and she took off. She drove towards an intersection and felt like she had complete control of everything. Then out of the blue, a boy stepped off the curb. Panic!! The clutch was depressed, she shifted down, and slammed on the brakes. But she did not forget to signal left, honk her horn, and swerve to the left all at the same time. Thank goodness she didn't kill the engine! Then, to her dismay, she heard a yell from the rear of the simulator, "Car Number Two, you just killed him!"

Phys Ed expands weight program

a. "And you thought I couldn't do it!"

From petite, swirly movements to "jiven out" with some hard rock, the senior girls generated a large amount of activity while Miss Basehore taught them the background of a unit of modern dance.

Junior girls and senior boys can no longer relish the idea of being able to skip, hop, bop, twist, and twirl to the delightful rhythmic tunes of "Barbara Ann" and "She's Too Fat For Me."

With the departure of "The Oldie Hits" went Mr. Robert Hobbs and Coach John Brooke, who took on the challenge of being head football coach at Treynor.

Sophomores weren't the only new faces. Coach Phil Nielsen made a grand entrance as physical education teacher and junior varsity basketball coach; also, Mr. Don Hinkle introduced the weight program to the sophomores. By any chance, is Coach hoping for more masculinity at A.L.?

With the teachers this year, "physical" had a more flexible meaning, each having his own little ache, pain, bruise, stitch or illness.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores attained a long-awaited goal when they finally reached the senior high on Bennett Avenue. Exciting courses like drama, biology, zoology, typing, and "touching" under the stairs were benefits of a broad curriculum.

Driver's licenses gave many sophomores a wider world even though they startled pedestrains and toppled mailboxes. Trips to town were at a minimum except for those who had fast wheels at lunch time.

Breakfast was not new but it seemed to be a "high" social event of each day. Some sophomores had two breakfasts—one at home and one at school. Those who ate at school only had fifteen minutes more to sleep in the morning.

Rubber bands, paper wads, thumbtacks, and paper airplanes were earmarks of a sophomore class room. Oh, yes—some sophomore girls had senior boyfriends—a coveted prize of the sophomore year.

Junior Class members initiated the year with a candy sales campaign amounting to about $3,500. Scott Kirke led his classmates with a $400 sales record. Mr. John Gibson and Mr. Seth Hills, Junior Class sponsors, promoted this major fund raising project.

During January, class officers met and decided to support and advertise the premiere showing of a nostalgic series of movies for an evening's entertainment after the game. There is a little of the old time spirit still left in us.

As the spring semester began, the thoughts of prom began to simmer in the minds of the juniors. Location, musical talent, date, theme and kind of dance were debated. The time came for the prom during the third week in April, and everyone had made it a success.

SENIORS

We, the seniors of Abraham Lincoln High School need to look enthusiastically to the future as a broad opening of new and important ideas and happenings. Our past was planned for us, with school and other activities. We need to remember our friendships, high school sweethearts, and the people who were part of it during the three years of participating in study, activities, and fun.

We are free after graduation to use the time in front of us to meet new challenges and to become individuals, who can add useful things to society. We should use the past and the present as a guide-post to tomorrow.

Good grades weren't the only requirement for induction into the National Honor Society. Character, leadership, and service were other qualities found in prospective members. Teachers voted for students who met these elements. Five percent of the Junior Class and ten percent of the Senior Class were eligible. During the program Dean M. L. Huit presented the Phi Beta Kappa Award to the school. A.L. graduates from the class of 1972 who attended the University of Iowa, earned this award for outstanding scholarship during their freshman year at the University.

Besides this special award, N.H.S. members who were initiated their junior year presented speeches to the new members on the different aspects of this organization.

"God and the Pepsi generation"

Baccalaureate services were held in the traditional joint manner at the Council Bluffs Field House. The Rev. Boyd L. Baker of the First Baptist Church delivered a sermon on "God and the Pepsi Generation" to the graduating seniors from A.L., T.J., and their families. The usual muggy weather accompained the service. The choir from T.J. and the orchestra from A.L. added to the joyousness of the occasion.

I am not

The class motto-I am not afraid of tomorrow for I have seen yesterday and I love today was the subject of the symposium speeches. Leslee Payne compared yesterday, today, and tomorrow to a rose, the class flower. John Jackson said that graduation meant a fresh start. Roger Adams said that "yesterday was a time of mistakes". Lynne Boyd advised the graduates not to live in yesterday. David Cook related the motto to school, speaking of tomorrow as a test that few would pass.

A total of 453 graduated on May 20, 1974, the largest class ever to graduate from A.L. To speed up the delivery of the diplomas they were given in pairs instead of single file.

TRAINING WHEELS

Yes. Go to school and buy new wheels, too. You can make it happen in the Air Force. It's great training. The kind that will provide a great future . . . and $326. and more a month for wheels and go-places, do-things action while you're learning such high paying skills as computer technician, aircraft mechanic, accountant, electronic technician or one of dozens of other technical or business specialties. You'll receive some extra benefits, too — like paid vacations, promotions, free medical and dental care. Get all the details from your Air Force recruiter today.

A turning point in our history

IOWA POWER

The decade of the 70's may well go down in history as a turning point in the lifestyle of this country.

A time when man suddenly awoke from a lifestyle of increasing, and many times wasteful, energy consumption. And when he awoke to decreasing fuel and energy supplies, he took a positive step and entered the age of energy conservation.

It will be noted as a time when it became as important to use existing energy supplies wisely, as to find and develop new and alternate sources.

That's why at Iowa Power, we think practicing energy conservation, like insulating your house well, is so important.

Important because we don't think it makes sense for any of us to use or pay for more energy than we really need.

At Iowa Power, it's our responsibility to provide adequate supplies of energy. It's your responsibility not to waste any of it.

Daily news coverages kept everyone in touch with the events of the year — — Watergate . . . trials and investigations, Kidnapping . . . Patty Hearst by Symbionese Liberation Army.

Energy crisis . . . Shortages of gas and heating fuel.

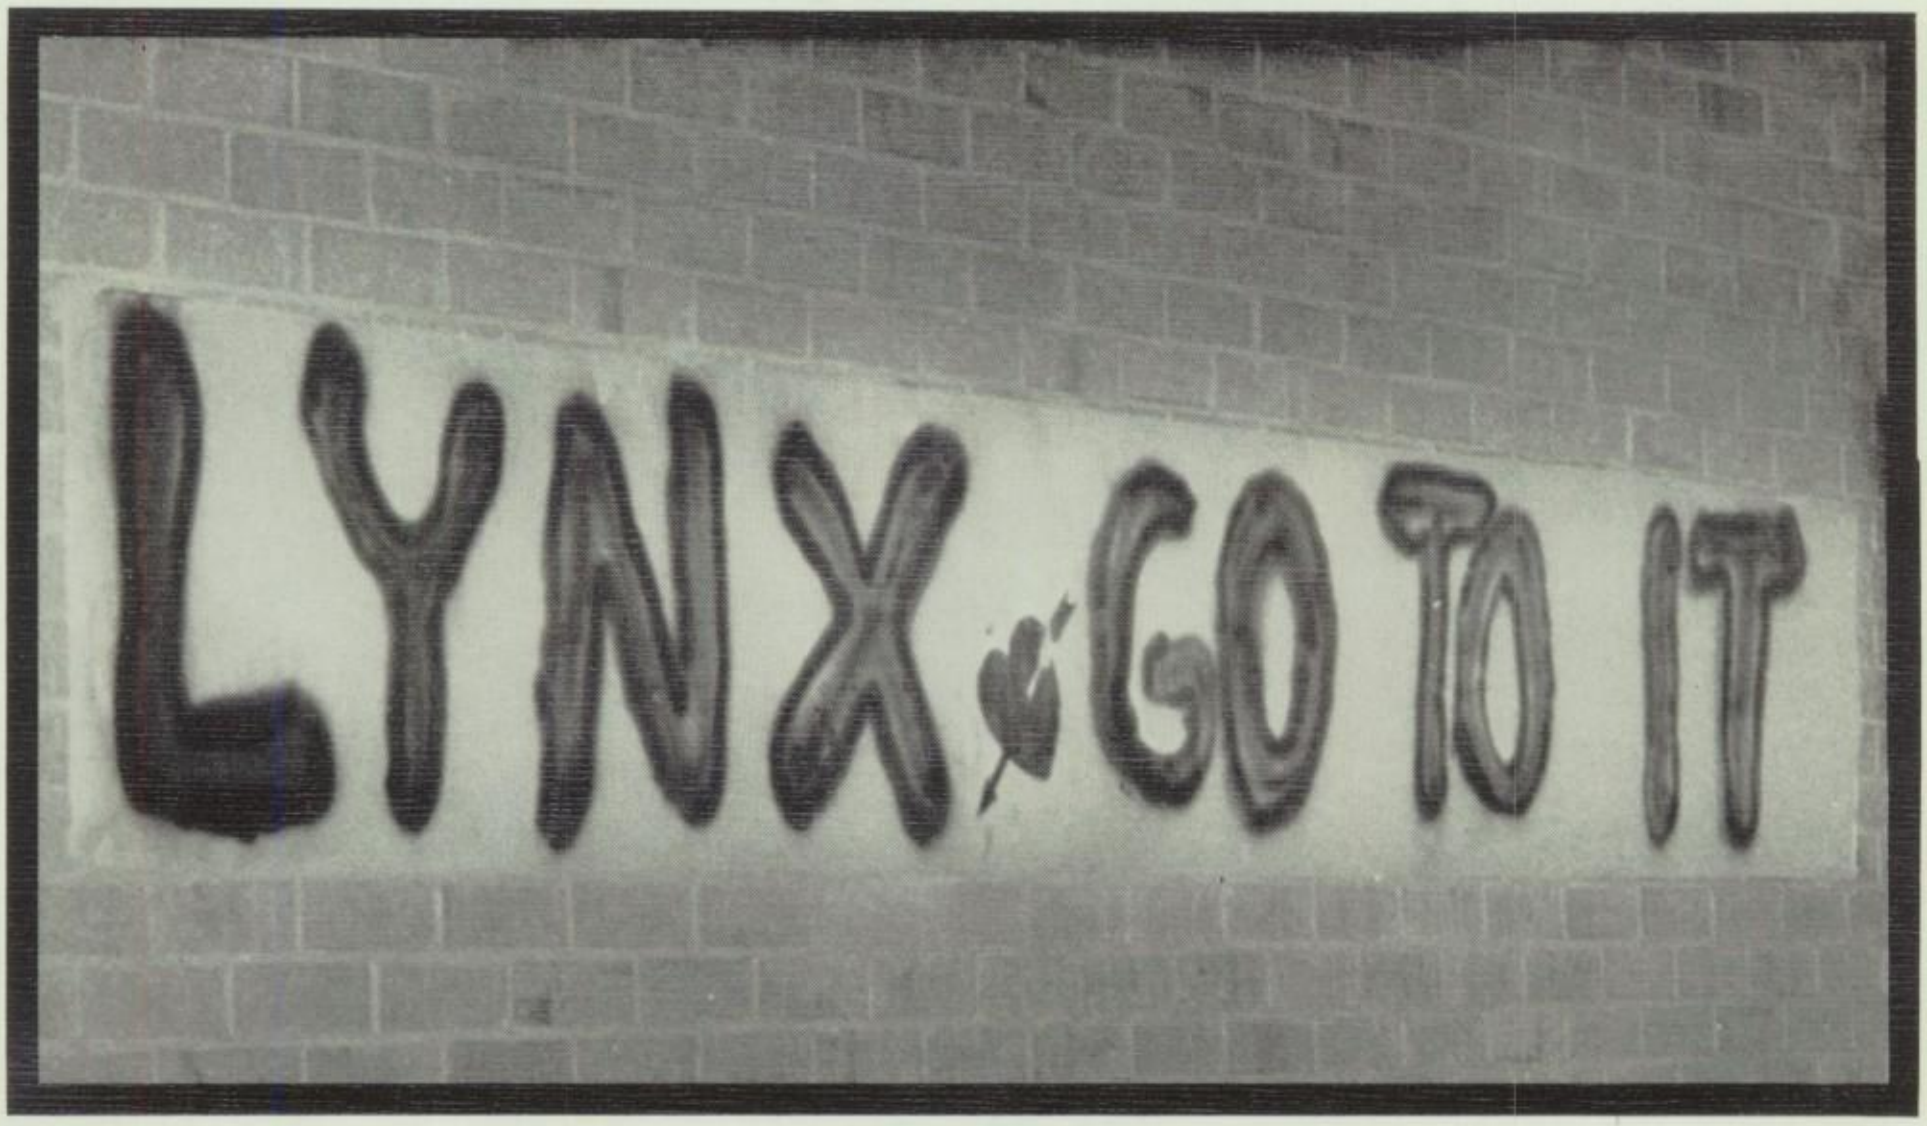
Vice-President Spiro Agnew . . . Resignation.

Exorcist . . . the movie about a girl possessed by the devil, treated one to the ultimate in grotesqueness for $3.00.

Comet Kohoutek . . . the astronomical flop of the year.

Henry Kissinger . . . Secretary of the State, and Miss Huckleeberry, A.L. teacher, get "hitched", but not to each other.

Streaking . . . all across the nation, all of the coverups in the political arena were exposed.



To feel is to be aware of something or someone other than oneself. Touching other lives teaches a sense of awareness. The barrier that blocks reality, that forces lives to be lived in a glass cage, can be broken. Doors can be opened. A touch of empathy is needed to break down that wall.

Togetherness can't be explained by verbs, nouns, or adjectives. It's more than a thought, feeling, or state of being. Through athletics, participating as a player or a spectator; or activities, as a leader or a joiner; students can build A.L. into a school that has spirit, pride . . . and togetherness.

For a few days during the tournament basketball games, the spirit of competition could be sensed within the student body. Enthusiasm could be heard at the Pep Assemblies, seen during the games, and felt in every corner of school.

This year brought many kinds of victory; the biggest being in a battle between the apathetic and the involved. Those active enough to become involved, cared enough to give a darn.
